4. Analysis of the Business Model's Problems and Suggestions

4.1. Membership Mechanism Problems in the Service

The membership mechanism of Haidilao in its service is too detailed, which leads some customers to reflect the violation of personal privacy. Recently, netizens revealed that Haidilao privately labels customers in the membership system, which mainly includes physical characteristics and personality needs. Other customers were labeled as "I like to complain on the APP". Haidilao customer service said this is an internal system, not convenient to reveal, the label does not support their own modification. Some customers said that the store manager after the label was sorry and gave the gift compensation. For most food and beverage brands, the sales growth is often mostly from "repeat customers", so for these brands, the short-term traffic exposure is important, but the long-term differentiated brand culture running through the marketing link is more important.

In order to make consumers have a good impression on the brand in the first consumption, one is to rely on the hard power of the product, the other is to rely on the quality of service. Because there is no absolute standard for hot pot taste. In fact, the internal mechanism can better let the staff to the customer's taste service. But at the same time, it will make customers feel a little violation of privacy, so the service staff can ask the customer to choose the label when the customer orders and log in the account, such as the preference of the pot, the dipping material, and whether other services are needed during the meal. Establish a personal preference mechanism for the customer's choice of the label. In this way, customers can effectively avoid the belief that private labeling is such a bad behavior for the enterprise.

4.2. Suggestions

Haidilao, first of all in the personnel service to be meticulous, do not appear mistakes. Classic dishes will be retained, sales are poor but some popular dishes will be retained, and innovative research and development of local dishes. As for the problem of high product price of Haidilao, the author believes that the most important goal of Haidilao now is to attract consumers to increase customer flow, so Haidilao can reduce the price of some dishes often ordered by consumers appropriately, so as to attract consumers to place more orders and increase sales. The main cause of improving the social responsibility awareness of Haidilao enterprises and the occurrence of rats in the kitchen of Haidilao enterprises is the lack of social responsibility, so it is necessary to improve the overall quality of employees and establish a social responsibility management mechanism [11].
