

democratic united front makes the people's democratic united front with Chinese characteristics basically formed.

Second, the socialist revolution and construction period is an important development period for the construction of the Communist Party of China. With the establishment of the People's Republic of China, the people's democratic united front led by the Communist Party of China has continued to improve its stability. All parties relying on the unity of the people's democratic united front recognize the status of the Communist Party of China and the leaders of the united front. In the united front, the code of conduct that the parties complied with each other and a highly united political foundation. All parties began to participate in national public affairs under the leadership of the Communist Party of China. During this period, the united front mainly served the Chinese socialist revolution and construction. After completing the socialist transformation and establishing a socialist system in 1956, Mao Zedong comprehensively discussed the top ten relationships that needed attention to the socialist revolution and construction in the "Top Ten Relations", and proposed that "long-term coexistence, mutual supervision" "The policy is an important strategy to deal with the relationship between the democratic parties, and to play an important role in the united front by improving the socialist political system to build and improve the political consultation system led by the Communist Party of China to build and improve the political consultation system of the Communist Party of China. And the autonomy system of the ethnic regional region, so that the people's democratic united front based on the Workers and Peasants Alliance can be consolidated and developed. However, with the expansion of the anti-rightist struggle and the Cultural Revolution, although the organization of the united front continues to exist, the work has been impacted. From the perspective of the entire historical stage of the development of the front, this period is an important development period for the theory and practice of the leadership of the Communist Party of China. Under the leadership of the Communist Party of China, the united front played an important role in participating in the management of national and social public affairs. Become an important force for the socialist revolution and construction.

Third, a new period of reform and opening up and socialist modernization is the vigorous period of development of the leadership of the Communist Party of China. With the end of the "Cultural Revolution", the focus of the work of the party and the country has gradually shifted to economic construction, and the great historical decision-making of reform and opening up. The various work of the front can also be gradually recovered, and the democratic parties, the Federation of Industry and Commerce, and the CPPCC's organization recovery activities. In 1979, Deng Xiaoping delivered a speech "United Front Front and the Mission of the CPPCC" in the Second Session of the Fifth Session of the CPPCC National Committee in 1979. It proposed that with the changes in my country's social class situation, the united front in the new period has become the leader of the working class. Based on the extensive alliance of socialist workers and patriots that support socialism, the People's Democratic Union Front, led by the Communist Party of China, has developed into the patriotic united front with the transformation of the party and national center tasks. It has also been transformed into unity and all forces to serve the construction of my country's modern socialist power. In 1990, Jiang Zemin delivered a speech at the seventeenth National United Front Work Conference with the title of "The Most Patriotic United Front", and put forward that the united front is the unique political advantage of the Communist Party of China and an important feature of socialism with Chinese characteristics. The party should attach importance to the work of the united front, clarify the necessity and long-termness of the existence of the united front in the new period, and further consolidate and develop the patriotic united front of the new period. Entering the 21st century, with the continued advancement of the comprehensive establishment of a well-off society, new requirements for the Patriotic United Front in the new era have also been put forward. The Communist Party of China has formulated the "Decision of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China on Strengthening the United Front" to further clarify and expand the united front of the new era in the new era. The specific scope of the private owners and overseas students as the unity of the united front. The alliance of the person, the duties and scope of the patriotic united front at this time are further clarified, and continue to play an important role in serving the modernization of socialist modernization with Chinese characteristics.

Fourth, entering the new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics is a new development period for the construction of the united front of the Communist Party of China. Since the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, socialism with Chinese characteristics has entered the new era. The Party Central Committee with General Secretary Xi Jinping has attached great importance to the united front work, focusing on the important goal of "two hundred years", and the united front of the new era. The work has been comprehensively drawn, and a series of "new concepts, new ideas, new assertions" [5] are proposed around the united front of the Communist Party leaders of the Communist Party of China. constantly improving. In 2015, General Secretary Xi Jinping wrote a report entitled "Doing the work in the new situation in the new situation" at the Central United Front Work Conference, pointing out that in the new situation, "must master the laws, adhere to principles, and pay attention to methods. It is necessary to adhere to the party's leadership" [6], deal with the relationship between consistency and diversity, adhere to common deposits, and be good at friendship and friends, point out the specific method of doing a good job in the united front work in the new situation, and by strengthening the socialist democracy with Chinese characteristics. The construction of the rule of law, improve the relevant laws and regulations of the united front work, and promote the scientific, standardized, and institutionalized development of the united front of the new era. In December 2020, the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China issued the "Regulations on the Work of the Communist Party of China", which further clarified the guiding ideology, main tasks and work principles of the united front work under the leadership of the Communist Party of China in the new era. The work pattern of the responsibility of the relevant parties" [7]. In January 2024, Xi Jinping published an important article on the work of "complete, accurate, and comprehensively implementing the important ideas of the united front of the party in the new era" on the new era. The strategic height of the revival and the important dimension of the construction of a political party system with Chinese characteristics summarized the important achievements of the work of the united front of the new era, and made a specific exposition on the importance of
