Abstract: The history of struggle and development over the past hundred years profoundly shows that the reason why the Chinese Communist Youth League can lead Chinese youth to make important contributions to the construction of a strong country and national rejuvenation and create brilliant achievements, in the final analysis, is to firmly support the leadership of the CPC and take the socialist road with Chinese characteristics. The Communist Youth League of China always follows the Party, which contains profound historical, emotional, value, and logical inevitability of the times. It is the cultural background for the Communist Youth League of China to maintain its original intention, the spiritual coordinates for forging ahead, and the organizational driving force for making achievements. It provides theoretical guidance, strength guarantee, and value guidance for the Communist Youth League of China to unite and lead young people to sustainable development.

Keywords: Chinese Communist Youth League; Always Follow the Party; Historical Logic; Emotional Logic; Value Logic; Era Logic.

1. Introduction

The report of the 20th National Congress of the Communist Party of China pointed out that "the vast number of young people must resolutely listen to the Party's words, follow the Party, embrace their dreams and be down-to-earth, dare to think, dare to do and do well, and aspire to be good young people in the new era who have ideals, dare to take on responsibilities, can endure hardships, and are willing to struggle". The Communist Youth League of China, as an advanced youth organization developed under the leadership of the Party, has fulfilled its resolute oath of always following the Party for more than a hundred years with its youthful talents and remarkable achievements. Always following the Party is the cultural foundation for the Communist Youth League of China to maintain its original aspiration, the spiritual coordinates for forging ahead, and the organizational driving force for making achievements. A profound understanding of its internal historical logic, emotional logic, value logic, and era logic is the essence of the Communist Youth League of China uniting and leading young people to enhance their "four consciousnesses", strengthen their "four confidences", and achieve "two safeguards".

2. Same Root and Same Source: Always Following the Party is a truth tested by the history of the Chinese youth movement, containing profound historical logic

Looking back at the magnificent history of the Chinese youth movement, the Communist Youth League has always carried forward the fine tradition of "the Party has a call, the Youth League has action", won the hearts of young people and gathered their strength for the Party, and made positive contributions and played an important role in various historical periods of revolution, construction, and reform. By applying Marxist philosophical thinking to understand the historical evolution of the Communist Youth League of China always following the Party, one can deeply appreciate the truth and faith power proven by history and practice.

1. Driven by a noble sense of national mission. After the Opium War of 1840, a group of Chinese advanced youth who were full of patriotism, lofty ideals, and fighting spirit were thinking about the way out for the nation and the future of the country. They were committed to fighting against the oppression of imperialism, feudalism, and bureaucratic capitalism. They were committed to saving the Chinese people from suffering. In the struggle to achieve the independence, prosperity, and strength of the Chinese nation, they demonstrated the mission of the Chinese advanced youth. The 1911 Xinhai Revolution brought a glimmer of hope to the crisis ridden China, as the concept of democracy and republicanism permeated the minds of the people. However, the goal and task of anti imperialism and anti feudalism were not achieved, and the nature of China's semi colonial and semi feudal society remained unchanged. At the time of national crisis, the Chinese advanced youth burst out a strong desire to save the country and the people, and urgently needed to carry out the revolutionary movement in an organized, programmatic and planned way, which made a good talent reserve for the birth of the CPC and the Chinese Youth League.

2. Enlightenment of advanced cultural ideas. The launch and rise of the New Culture Movement in 1915 marked that Chinese youth, as a new force, were about to step onto the social and historical stage, representing that Chinese youth, in the form of new youth, embarked on the path of salvation and survival. The October Revolution in 1917 sowed the seeds of Marxism Leninism on the land of China. The Chinese advanced youth finally saw the dawn in the fog of exploring to save the nation from extinction. They studied the experience of the October Revolution and took Marxism Leninism as a new spiritual pillar to lead the Chinese people to independence. The outbreak of the May 4th Movement in 1919 baptized China's advanced youth ideologically, aroused the great awakening of the Chinese people and the Chinese nation, promoted the wider and deeper spread of Marxism, and hastened the birth of the CPC and the Chinese Youth League.

3. Interweaving of intimate organizational origins. The early Chinese Marxist pioneers were ready to establish the Chinese Youth League when they were brewing the establishment of the CPC. The establishment of the Youth League was one of the activities and work of the early Communists. From the very beginning of its establishment, the organization of the Chinese Youth League has been positioned as a preparatory school for the CPC, preparing for the CPC in strength. The two have a special political relationship that has been handed down from generation to generation. Throughout the history of the development of the Chinese Youth League, the name of the organization has changed from the Chinese Socialist Youth League to the Chinese Communist Youth League and the Chinese New Democratic Youth League [2]. Finally, the CPC kindly added communism to the Youth League again, and changed it back to the Chinese Communist Youth League. Thus, there was the affectionate "Mother named us with communism" in the Chinese Communist Youth League song. The CPC was founded in 1921, and the Chinese Socialist Youth League was founded the next year. From a historical perspective, the care, leadership and help of the CPC provided a strong organizational guarantee for the birth of the Chinese Youth League.

3. Same Robe and Same Ze: Always Following the Party is the basis for the establishment of the party caucus through the smoke and war, containing a strong emotional logic

On the journey to realize the great cause of national rejuvenation, the Communist Youth League of China deeply trusts and closely follows the CPC, contributing irreplaceable youth power to the cause of the Party. The birth background of the CPC and the Communist Youth League of China and their experiences in different stages of revolutionary construction determine their emotional relationship of being together through thick and thin.

1. Assistance and support in revolutionary movements. Under the leadership of the CPC, the Chinese Socialist Youth League actively participated in organizing and launching the national revolutionary movement, the agrarian revolution, defending revolutionary bases and the war against aggression, and helped the Communist Party set off the climax of the national salvation revolution. The Chinese Socialist Youth League went deep into the working class and peasants, led the youth, mobilized the masses, and played a significant role in sparking a wave of workers' movements, opposing warlord rule, and imperialist oppression. In this stage of the revolutionary struggle, there were wage struggles led by young workers, the May 30th Movement against imperialism, the December 9th Movement and other events. Revolutionary youth in the Youth League were repeatedly killed and suppressed. When the Chinese Socialist Youth League was deeply frustrated, the CPC, a more mature political group, gave the Youth League organization love and guidance. The Youth League organization's ideological awareness was further improved, and its struggle experience was further enriched. In the face of the chaos of warlords and the smoke of anti imperialism and anti feudalism, the Chinese patriotic youth insisted on carrying out party activities in the name of the Youth League. In the test of blood and fire in the revolutionary movement, the CPC and the Chinese Communist Youth League share weal and woe.

2. Leading and following in socialist construction and reform. The Communist Youth League of China is the vanguard of building and defending the new China, connected with the CPC by blood, a new force in China's socialist reform movement, and a reliable assistant for the Party to rally youth. In the process of construction and reform, the Communist Youth League underwent the test of the "Cultural Revolution", suffered severe damage to its organization, and the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Youth League was reorganized. At a time when the Communist Youth League was on the brink of life and death, the Third Plenary Session of the Eleventh Central Committee of the Communist Party of China revitalized the organization. Especially since the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, the Party Central Committee has devoted a lot of effort to the work of youth and the Communist Youth League. It often listens to the voices of young people, cares about their growth, encourages them to succeed, and gives them great encouragement with warm words.

4. Unity of Heart and Virtue: Always Following the Party is the gene for the continuous development of the Communist Youth League's cause, containing clear value logic

Being a good assistant and reserve force of the Party is the Party's consistent expectation and requirement for the Youth League, the main responsibility and business of the Youth League, the unique advantage of the Youth League organization, and the fundamental guarantee for the sustainable development of the Youth League.

1. Highlighting the common pursuit of values. The fundamental difference of political organizations lies in their purposes, programs and classes. The CPC and the Communist Youth League share the same underlying value logic. They are both brewed by early Marxist pioneers, inspired by the wisdom of Marxist theory, adhere to the anti imperialist and anti-feudal programs, and work tirelessly for the liberation and rejuvenation of the nation and the interests of the country and the people. In 1950, the design of the Communist Youth League flag was completed. The red flag symbolizes the victory of the revolution, and the yellow five pointed star and the yellow circle around it symbolize the close unity of the Chinese youth around the CPC [3]. The design of the Youth League emblem was completed in 1959, consisting of the Youth League flag, gears, wheat ears, ribbons, the rising sun and its radiance, symbolizing the Communist Youth League's unity among young people of all ethnic groups under the shining light of Marxism Leninism and Mao Zedong Thought, and their brave progress towards the direction guided by the Party. The group flag and emblem have the same or similar elements as the party flag and emblem, and the serious organizational logo reflects the common values and concepts of both.

2. Clarified the value indicators of the team organization. The education policy of the Communist Party of China is to cultivate people with morality and talent, prioritize morality, and promote comprehensive development of morality, intelligence, physical fitness, aesthetics, and labor skills. It can be seen that "morality" has always been placed in the primary position of educating people. Adhering to the leadership of the CPC and unswervingly following the path of socialism with Chinese characteristics is a great virtue for young people in the new era. The Communist Youth League must do a good job in ideological and political education and moral value guidance for young people, and lead them to move in the right political direction. The Communist Youth League has a wide coverage and standardized management mechanism, which can extend its educational reach to every young person and facilitate the mobilization and organization of young people to unite around the Party. The Party flag refers to the direction of the Youth League flag. Whatever the Party asks, the Youth League will do. The Communist Youth League takes the initiative to incorporate its work into the Party's major decision-making and overall framework, and continues to play a leading role as an example in tasks such as epidemic prevention and control, flood rescue, and volunteer service.

5. Walking in the same direction: Always following the Party is an unshirkable responsibility of the new youth, which contains a distinct logic of the times

Chinese youth integrate their youthful struggles into the cause of the Party and the people, becoming the vanguard force for realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Always following the Party is an important statement made by the Communist Youth League of China based on an objective grasp of youth development and an accurate understanding of the historical position and mission of the Youth League in the era.

1. Be able to steer the direction of striving forward with courage. It is the original mission of the CPC and the Communist Youth League of China to seek happiness for the Chinese people and rejuvenation for the Chinese nation. Actively striving for national rejuvenation and the interests of the people has become the overall direction and goal for the growth and success of contemporary youth. The direction determines the path, and the goal drives the struggle. Youth League members should firmly grasp the theme of the times, and on the vast canvas of the new era, use their high spirits and unremitting efforts to paint a magnificent new picture of the Chinese youth movement.

2. It can gather the youthful power to achieve great success. The Resolution of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China on the Major Achievements and Historical Experience of the Party's Century long Struggle summarizes the ten historical experiences of the Party, the first of which is to uphold the Party's leadership. Adhering to the comprehensive leadership of the Party, especially the centralized and unified leadership of the Party Central Committee, is the fundamental advantage for governing the world's largest ruling party and the most populous country. The great achievements of the CPC have a strong appeal and persuasiveness. Under the leadership of the Party, all groups in China have worked together to focus on major events; Under the organization of the Youth League, the Chinese youth movement has always listened to the Party, followed the Party, and walked with the people. For a hundred years, it has been the source of vitality for the Chinese spiritual lineage and strength.

3. It can enhance the confidence in benchmarking and development. The Party's self-purification, self-improvement, self-renewal, and self-improvement have set a benchmark for the Communist Youth League of China, aligning with the comprehensive strict governance of the Party and promoting the comprehensive strict governance of the Communist Youth League. Strengthening Party building leads to the construction of the Communist Youth League and promotes Party building through the construction of the Communist Youth League, and implementing the requirements of strict governance of the Communist Youth League throughout the entire process of political construction, ideological construction, organizational construction, work style construction, discipline construction, and discipline construction. The Communist Youth League of China insists on keeping pace with the times, actively adapting to the new situation of the Communist Youth League reform and the new characteristics of the youth, continuously enhancing its political, progressiveness and mass character, preventing the institutionalization, administration, aristocratization and entertainment, further implementing the principle of "the party governing youth", always grasping the core task of ideological and political guidance, uniting and leading the youth to follow the party unswervingly, and striving to cultivate the builders and successors of socialism with Chinese characteristics who have both ability and integrity and are comprehensively developing.

6. Epilogue

On the hundred-year journey of youth, always follow the Party. Through the storms of the century and embarking on a new century long journey, the Communist Youth League of China will continue to lead its youth members to work hard and tirelessly, leaving a distinct mark of youthful struggle on the new journey of the new era.
